BALTIMORE, Sept. 23.-Manager Hanlon said to-day that he was confident his team would win the pennant. He expects to capture three games from the Philadelphias, and to not lose more than two, if any, from New York. He does not believe the Western clubs are throwing games to Cleveland, but thinks Pittsburg might have used some other pitcher on Saturday be-sides Moran, who had pitched on the Thursday before. Manager Irwin said: "I to not think the Western clubs are purposely losing games to Cleveland. An the Western clubs except Cleveland showed up weak on their last Eastern trip, and now that the clubs have returned home they are not any stronger. Cleveland, as the best club, must win from them. I think it probable that Louisville will take a game from Cleveland. Baseball is an honest sport, and I am sorry to hear that many persons think the Western clubs are helping Cleveland to win the pennant. The game is played on its merits at all times."

THE OFFICIAL TABLE

BAN JOHNSON CUTS INDIANAPOLIS OUT OF ONE VICTORY.

The Pennant Winners Will Return Home Next Monday-Preparations for a Big Reception.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 23.-President Ban Johnson, of the Western League of Baseball clubs has just prepared the following official report of the relative standing of the clubs during the season that closed on Sunday. Here is the order in which the clubs stand according to the percentage of games won, calculated on the whole number of games played with each club: Clubs. Played. Won.

President Johnson says that on an aver-He says that there is a prospect of a change in the circuit next year; that Terre Haute will be left out and Columbus, O., accepted instead. The annual meeting will take place at the Tremont House, in Chicago, on Thursday, Sept. 26.

President Johnson's table gives Indianapolis one less game won than the pennant winners are entitled to, according to the table which the Journal has been printing and which was corrected by Mr. Johnson before the last series here with Minneapolis. Mr. Johnson also gives Minneapolis one game less lost than the Journal's table. It is a coincidence that Minneapolis lost a same to Indianapolis, 9 to 0, because the team stopped over in Springfield, Ill., to play an exhibition contest and failed to show up here for its first game of the last Minneapolis-Indianapolis series. At that time the umpire gave the game to Indianapolis, and as Minneapolis never had a good excuse for not appearing President Johnson said at the time the game belonged to Indianapolis. It now looks as if the game had been thrown out. If Indianapolis deserves another game should have is deserves another game she should have it, regardless of the fact that the pennant is won. No telling what some one may try to do when the question of throwing out

Bobby Gilks started in to pitch the second game for Terre Haute, and everybody settled themselves to enjoy a lively exhi-bition of stick work. Gilks lasted two innings and then retired in favor of Wedlege, and then the game seemed certain. The people saw an exhibition of free hitting all right enough, but, unfortunately, it came from the other side. Fricken, who was in the box for the Blues, had not reovered from his game of Friday, and was clearly out of form, and was hit hard, while behind him occurred an exhibition of fielding that was simply a mockery. Terre Haute kindly offered the Blues the game in the opening innings, but on their refusal to accept any favors the Hottentofs turned in and, with an outfielder in the box, made the supporters of the Blues blush for their favorites. Connaughton's reversal of form was remarkable. In the irst game his work was sensational in the extreme, while in the second it was some-

Force and force alone could obtain even a show of justice, decency or fair play from the ministers and agents of a religion which has never yielded one jot of its atrocious pretension, execpt under sheer compulsion of absolute necessity." Historian Lecky, who is at Vosbergen, Guilderland, says: "I wish you all success in your efforts to obtain a repeal of the gross, intolerant law about Protestant marriages which exist in some of the Sour American States, but I shall be much sur rised if you obtain any real help from the Vatican. Such laws were once general in Roman Catholic countries. They were always inspired or suggested by the priests, and they were only abolished when the political power of the church was restricted or overthrown.

Mr. Brand Satisfied that the Yankee Yacht Won an Honest Victory-The America's Cup Challenge.

OYSTER BAY, Sept. 23 .- The first race of tween the half raters Ethelwynn, of the Indian Harbor Yacht Club, and Spruce IV, of the Minima Yacht Club, of England, was sailed to-day after Saturday's fluke. Ethelwynn won very easily. She beat Spruce IV by seven minutes forty-one seconds over a course that began with a run to leeward for three miles and included a beat back on the second leg and a repetition of those legs to make the full distance of twelve miles. After the race, Mr. J. Arthur Brand said to a reporter that he had changed his mind in one way, June); Killona, Impetuous (2), 2:14%, and if not in others. He had believed that Spruce IV was more clever in a breeze that blew, but he discovered to-day that the stronger the wind the better was Ethelwynn. Mr. Brand had no possible steam yachts, excursion boats, schooners the best horses of the track to compete for or sloops that were following the racers, the liberal tourses offered. After For except in one instance, when Mr. Coleate Hoyt's steam launch got in his way just country will conclude the season—Terre Haute and Lexington. The chances are two to one that Indiana will hold pacing and crossing of the starting line. "But," said Mr. Brand, "don't think for a moment that I am making a claim that the incident would affect the result. I was beaten, and well beaten.'

The course to-day was the same as that of Saturday. Starting from an imaginary line between the Center island buoy and Commodore Benedict's flagship, Oneida, the yachts were sent away over a course three miles to leeward, dead before the southwest wind, with a prospective beat back and a repetition of the same course, making a total of twelve miles. The preliminary whistle was blown at 12:30. A preparatory signal was given at 12:40 and after that the yachts had five minutes to make a start. It was a one gun English start, where the contestants had to figure on the time that the gun would be fired. on the time that the gun would be fired, and get over the line as soon after the designated time as possible. This kind of a game always gives skippers a chance to jockey about the line and to outwit each other, if they are smart enough.

Ethelwynn got over the line first and went away on her business without waiting for her challenger. Spruce was not ing for her challenger. Spruce was not lazy and she came upon the weather side of the American boat before an eighth of a mile had been covered and blanketed the Yankee. More than that the Britisher went by the Yankee, but that was the only time that England was ahead of America. On crossing the line, and running before the wind, both boats set their spinnakers. The breeze at that time was blowing about four knots an hour and the blowing about four knots an hour and the racers sped before it. Going down to the outer mark, Ethelwynn overhauled Spruce IV and/made her turn at 1:39:40, or seventen second ahead of her antagonist. Coming up into the wind the boats stood away over to the Long island shore under the point that is known as Lloyd's neck. On the first tack over toward the Lloyd's neck sands, Spruce gained, but when the wind began to haul, as it did to the southward, and Ethelwynn was enabled to ease sheets. and Ethelwynn was enabled to ease sheets. American boat ran away from the Britisher before the former passed out into open water of Long Island sound The boats turned the home buoy as follows: Ethelwynn, 3:02:02; Spruce IV, 3:09:15. On the second run out to the mark, Ethelwynn was first turning that buoy, at 3:36:58, while Spruce did not get there until 3:42:03. After going around the cuter mark the second time the contestants again stood in along the shore under Lloyd's neck, and there was a good deal of reaching in getting home, the wind having hauled well to the southward. Ethelwynn passed the line first at 4:47:15. She was greeted with the usual shricking and tootings of the assembled fleet of observers. But the good, game Spruce, which came along at 4:54:56 or seven minutes forty-one seconds behind, received as cordial a welcome as did the winner.

The Times, commenting on the new chal-lenge for the America's cup, says: "It is satisfactory to find that the untoward circumstances of the race between Valkyrie III and Defender has not prevented im-mediate preparations for another friendly contest. All that Mr. Rose asks is a clear course, and until a race can be sailed under such conditions as will make a test of seamanship and will eliminate accidents due to a crowded waterway, it will not be regarded by the people of this country with the interest and respect it would otherwise demand." Commenting on a letter from Shepard Homans, published this morning in defense of the regatta committee of the New York Yacht Club, which was bound by a deed of trust, the Times says: "It would seem as though everything connected with this cup is in the grasp of the dead hand, and that nobody is to blame for the deadlock. We can only suggest that the cup and trust deed should be carefully deposited in the strongest strong room New York can boast and some other object should be found for which the yachtsmen can sail races under conditions of rational freedom and elasticity.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—When a reporter showed the above cablegram to ex-Comnodore James D. Smith, chairman of the merica's cup communication of the communicati vachtman read the news eagerly and said: "This is, indeed, a very sportsmanlike challenge, and I am very glad to hear it. Of course, our committee has nothing to do with it, but when the direct chal-ST. LOUIS, Sept. 23.—The attendance was not over 2,500 to-day, and the weather was uncomfortably cold. The track was fast, will be called and a new cup committee appointed. Whether I shall be a member that committee or not, I can say positively that the very fairest possible conditions will be adopted. This is good news, indeed, for American yachtsmen, and, in my opinion, it will not be necessary for us to build another cup defender in orde to beat the Distant Shore." Bicycle Day at Tri-County Fair.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. NORTH MANCHESTER, Ind., Sept. 23 .--Wednesday will be the big day of the tricounty fair here. It will be bicycle day, and the management has spared no expense in making the meet attractive. President A. C. Mills returned from Chicago Saturday with a list of prizes that surpasses anything offered in this part of the State. Upward of one hundred entries have been made and some crack riders are booked. Twelve riders from the Morgan & Wright Cycle Club, of Chicago, will be here and they promise some good work.
O. H. Bartley, of Wolf Lake, Ind., who carried away the laurels at Goshen recently, is entered in several races. Lee Heller, the popular tandem rider of Fort Wayne, is also entered. Lee Richardson, who claims to be the premier trick rider of the world, arrived to-day. Richardson rode Springfield, Mass., this year, and his presence here is attracting a great many wheelmen from the surrounding towns. Following is a list of the events, all Class A: Mile novice; mile open; mile tandem, open; mile, open to Wabash, Whitley and Kosciusko counties; Kosciusko county handicap: three-mile handicap, open. English Cricketers Won. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23.-By a strong batting rally in their second inning to-day the visitors from Oxford and Cambridge defeated the gentlemen of Philadelphia cricketers by four runs and two wickets. When play was resumed at noon to-day the score stood 372 for the Philadelphias for both their innings to 156 for Oxford and for both their imnings to 156 for Oxford and Cambridge in their first, leaving a margin of 217 for the English collegians to make up. Mitchell and Hill began the defense of the wickets against the bowling of Patterson and King, and the English captain was very soon after noon clean-bowled for 32. Hill, however, was apparently in good form and rolled up 22 before Wood captured one off his bat in the slips. Druce, the star bat of the English team, made the top score of the inning, 57, and the victory is largely to be ascribed to his fine form, and the splendid stand made by Wilson and the splendid stand made by Wilson and Arkwright toward the end of the game, the latter being caught by King in the slips for 35, when the score stood 262 for seven wickets. Robinson, the last man out, was followed by Lowe, who scored the winning run by a cut to the ropes, Wilson carrying his ball for twenty. About five thousand people witnessed the day's play in spite of the intense heat.

After declaring that "it is the purpose of the report to expose existing methods of taxation in Illnois, special reference to their effect on labor interests," the reports proceed to re-view the work of former bureaus. The stand is taken that it is idle to dwell upor the wages and condition of the average wage earners of the State. The bureau contends that their condition "is proved by evidence so clear and abundant, that the collection of any further statistics merely prove it would be wasted effort." The oureau takes the position that "taxation is the chief instrument of tymanny."
